Much Business Transacted At Town Council Meeting

Ruling Was Asked on Wednesday Half Holiday—Permit Must be Obtained Before Making Repairs and Additions to Buildings—No Action Was Taken on Firm Wishing to Rent Baymac Building—Several Addressed the Council

The Town Council met in regular session in the Council Chambers on Wednesday evening last with his worship Mayor Hewson presiding, and all present except Reeve Fonger, who was ill.

In opening the session Mayor Hewson pointed out that there was considerable business for the council and he asked that his colleagues work and act quickly. This request was adhered to and everything was carried out as rapidly as possible and the council adjourned shortly after 11 o'clock.

Mr. H. Morgan representing the Toronto Globe addressed the council pointing out that they were undertaking to run a special feature page for Grimsby, emphasizing blossom time. He asked the council to take a small advertisement to help defray the expenses.

Messrs. H. D. Walker and C. W. F. Carpenter addressed the council on behalf of the Grimsby Chamber of Commerce asking for a grant to assist the Chamber of Commerce to broadcast and otherwise advertise Grimsby and its industrial sites.

Joseph Strong appeared asking for a ruling on the Wednesday afternoon closing. He pointed out that his grocery store came under the by-law but not his bakeshop. The by-law was explained to Mr. Strong and his bakeshop will remain open.

There being no other delegations before the council the following motions were put through.

Moved by Councillors Bourne and Tregunno that the town pay for a small advertisement in the Toronto Globe advertising blossom time.

A motion of Councillors Durham and Merritt that a grant of $75 be made to the Grimsby Chamber of Commerce was responsible for bringing in an amendment by Councillors Tregunno and Bourne that grant of $100 be made to the Chamber of Commerce. The amendment lost and the original motion granting $75 was declared carried.

On motion of Councillors Tregunno and Bourne the accounts as per pay sheet No. 5, amounting to $880.48 were passed for payment.

On motion of Councillors Moxley and Bourne the accounts of the Joint Fire and Light Committee as per pay sheet No. 5 amounting to $109.97 were ordered paid.

On motion of Councillors Durham and Merritt H. L. Wood was granted a building permit for the erection of the two houses on Robinson Street south, the same to be under the supervision of the building inspector.

On motion of Councillors Wilkins and Merritt Mr. Rumble was granted permission to run a drain under Maple Avenue on the south side of Clark Street, Mr. Rumble to protect the crossing while work was being done and to keep the road intact.

On motion of Councillors Durham and Wilkins the clerk was instructed to write E. C. Lawrence and James A. Wray to discontinue the dumping of large quantities of water in Orchard Lane, to prevent it from discharging over the side walk at the lane between the store of A. F. Hawke and Kanmacher's restaurant.

It was brought to the attention of the council that several people had erected additions and made repairs to their buildings without the necessary permit. To govern this and to prevent its re-occurrence Councillors Bourne and Tregunno tabled a motion that a notice be inserted in the Independent warning rate payers that they must obtain a building permit for the erection of buildings, repairs and additions.

On motion of Councillors Bourne and Durham C. J. Eames was granted a permit to remodel the front of the Mason Hotel.

On motion of Councillors Bourne and Tregunno the following were appointed as a court of revision to hear 1928 assessment. Mayor, Reeve, Aldermen Moxley, Tregunno, and Bourne, and the clerk was instructed to prepare a by-law covering the same and the court will sit on Wednesday evening, May 13th in the Council Chambers.

The matter pertaining to trees in the cemetery was, on motion of Councillors Durham and Merritt, left in the hands of the property committee.

The council adjourned on motion of Councillors Durham and Merritt.

Special Meeting of Police Commission

Flashing Signals to be Erected At Palmer's Hill and Farrow's Corner—Chief of Police to Summons Speeders

The Grimsby Police Commission held a special session on Monday evening in the Town Hall to take up the matter of the dangerous corners namely Farrow's and Palmer's Hill. During the past few months several accidents have occurred at these places. His Worship Mayor Hewson attributed the majority of accidents to reckless driving and speeding. The commission took up the matter of cutting down the speed of cars passing through the town with Chief of Police Wentworth to see if this would not have some effect on reducing the number of accidents. The Chief pointed out that he was unable to get American speeders owing to the fact that he had no means of pursuing them. He suggested that the town mark off a portion of Main Street and that he be equipped with a stop watch. The commission then visited Farrow's Corner and Palmer's Hill and placed an order for the erection of flashing signals, to serve as a warning to motorists. The work of erecting them will be rushed along and in the meantime the Chief of Police will summon those whom he catches speeding in the marked off area.

H. H. Farrell Hurt In Auto Smash

Although their automobile turned over four times after being struck by another machine, H. H. Farrell, a man and a resident of Grimsby, miraculously escaped death in a weekend crash on the Talbot road, west of Ruthven.

The heavy construction of the sedan is believed by Merton McCormick, Walkerville, driver, to have saved his life, and those of his passengers A. M. Morrow, C. M. Bennett, T. F. Lanspeary, all of Walkerville and H. H. Farrell, Grimsby. Morrow is in Grace hospital, suffering from an injured back. The others got away with cracked ribs and bruises.

The sedan was struck broadside on by a light touring car, driven by a girl of 16, named Edford. She and her father, who was riding in the touring car, escaped uninjured. Reports from the Farrell home last night stated that Mr. Farrell was badly shaken up and was suffering from shock and other injuries. The many local friends of A. M. Morrow will be sorry to learn this his injuries were such that he was removed to Grace Hospital. Mr. Farrell is still in Windsor at the home of his daughter.

Two Ladies Slightly Hurt

Driver of Niagara Falls, N.Y., Car Charged With Reckless Driving

A car was badly damaged and two ladies slightly hurt in an accident that occurred on Palmer Hill about seven o'clock Monday morning. The car that was damaged was driven by C. Cohen of Welland and two other occupants, Mrs. Cohen and Miss Oram, received cuts about the head, necessitating stitches. The Cohen car was proceeding towards Hamilton and was just approaching the bend in the road when an American car driven by J. Freeman of Niagara Falls, N.Y., came around the bend and the crash occurred.

Freeman appeared in police court Monday morning charged with reckless driving. After hearing the evidence Magistrate Campbell reserved judgment until this afternoon. The defendant claimed that there was no sign on the road to indicate a turn and that he was blinded by the sun. The car he was driving did not belong to him. Provincial Constable Embleton was on the scene shortly after the crash and held the American and arraigned him in Police Court.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mrs. Eleanor Hawke, mother of A. F. Hawke, is to-day receiving congratulations from her many friends on this, her 98th birthday.

John W. Hilts Appointed Weed Inspector for Township

Township Council was in Session Five Hours—Many Delegations Addressed Council—Court of Revision to Sit on June 9th—Tenders to be Called for Hauling of Stone—Special Meeting to Take Up Road Programme

On Saturday afternoon the township council held their regular session in the council chambers with all present. The reading of the minutes of the last meeting were adopted. Reeve Oakes pointed out that there were several delegations present and it was decided to hear the deputations before proceeding with business.

Mr. H. D. Walker and C. W. F. Carpenter appeared asking for a grant for the Grimsby Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Neff, agricultural representative for the County of Lincoln, asked the council to increase their grant to the school fairs and also outlined to the council the duties and some of the qualifications of a weed inspector. He asked the clerk to communicate with him as soon as possible informing him whom the council had appointed to the position of weed inspector, so that he might be notified to attend the convention of weed inspectors to be held in St. Catharines at an early date.

Messrs. Wilcox and Allan appeared asking the council to repair the western portion of the road adjoining their property. These gentlemen pointed out that this road was used extensively by children attending the Alway school and after a rain storm it was difficult for the children to proceed over this road. Reeve Oakes pointed out that the council had at their road inspection on Saturday last decided to grade the easterly portion of the road. Mr. Wilcox pointed out that the whole road should be graded. Councillor Eames stated that the finances would not permit the grading of this road. "We will either do the east or the west half and in fairness to the other ratepayers which half do you think we should do? We want to do the right thing by all." Mr. Wilcox and Mr. Allan stated that, in their opinions, the township should do the west half.

Mr. McCollum appeared before the council complaining about damage to his property in the Beach caused by letting dogs run at large. He asked that Grimsby Beach be made a residential area and that all dogs in that district be chained up. This request brought forth a lengthy discussion and it was finally decided to post up notices in the Beach, notifying dog owners to chain up their pets.

There being no further delegations before the council the regular business was proceeded with. A communication was read from resident in the vicinity of where Mr. L. Stewart was to erect a gas pump, stating that they were not opposed to its erection. On motion of Councillors Eames and VanDuzer, Mr. Stewart was granted a permit for gas pump.

On motion of Deputy Reeve Lawson and Councillor Crittenden a grant of $40 was made to the Grimsby Chamber of Commerce. The usual grant of $25 was made to the school fairs.

On motion of Deputy Reeve Lawson and Councillor VanDuzer June 9th was set aside for the council to sit as a Court of Revision. On motion of Councillor Eames and Deputy Reeve Lawson, the clerk was authorized to advertise for tenders for the hauling of stone. On motion of Councillors Eames and VanDuzer the clerk was instructed to write John Hunter informing him that he must not cut any trees on the road allowance on road 17, lots 14 and 15 in the third concession.

On motion of Councillors VanDuzer and Crittenden the clerk was instructed to write the T.H. and B. Railway asking them to clean out their portion of the John Martin ditch on the town line between the township of North Grimsby and Saltfleet.

On motion of Councillors Eames and Crittenden the clerk was instructed to write Mrs. Jessie MacCrae re cleaning out of ditch on her property in Lot N. in the East Gore to prevent flooding and damage to the township road.

J. O. Kankle presented his report for truancy work in the township and it was found to be entirely satisfactory.

The next article to be taken up was the opening and reading of the applications for the position of Weed Inspector. Applications were read from John Jeffrey, John W. Hilts, and J. O. Kankle. It was pointed out that while practically all the men were qualified for the position the council felt that the position should go to a resident of this township and a ratepayer.

On motion of Deputy Reeve Lawson and Councillor Crittenden, J. W. Hilts was appointed weed inspector at the rate of 40 cents per hour and to provide his own transportation and to work under the instructions of the council.

The passing of the usual accounts did not come up until 6:15 and at this late hour Reeve Oakes pointed out that they would not be able to take up their road programme which they had mapped out on their recent road inspection. It was therefore decided that a special meeting be called at an early date to take up the road question and to open the tenders for the hauling of stone.

The council adjourned at 6:30.

Blossom Scenes in Grimsby and District

"Blossom Time" in the Niagara Peninsula is one of the greatest features for which our "Garden of Canada" is known as a famous beauty spot. Peach, cherry, plum, pear and apple trees come out in their pale and dark pinks and whites. The only way to appreciate them is to see them for it is the colour that is most alluring. The thousands of motorists passing through the Niagara Peninsula are attracted to see the blossoming branches. Dr. Murdoch is seen peering from behind a blossoming branch in the rectory below is a St. David's home with the blossoming trees in the foreground. The upper right is an orchard near Grimsby in full

Town Likely to Undertake Laying of Storm Drain on Mountain Street—Would cost According to Tender About $1000

The Town Council received only two tenders for the construction of a storm drain on Mountain Street at the head of Oak Street. On opening the tenders it was found that both prices were practically the same. The council at some length discussed the advisability of the laying of only a portion of the drain this year—a 4 ft cutting down of the knoll at this particular spot. To complete this work as outlined in the tenders it would cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $1000. Several of the council were of the opinion that the board of works could lay the drain themselves and complete it for less money than those tendering on the job had agreed to do it for.

Mother's Day Was Widely Observed

Flowers Were Worn by Thousands Who Were on Streets Sunday

Grimsby citizens kept fresh the memory of their mothers yesterday when Mother's Day was observed. Hundreds thronged the streets early in the morning to watch the blossom parade, and it is almost every button-hole was seen the rose—the red by those who were fortunate enough to have mothers living, white by those whose best friend had died, but who still gave outward semblance of their thoughts for her.

There were services in most of the town churches, at which mention was made of the significance of the day. On Saturday flowers were seen in abundance everywhere. Hundreds of local boys and girls, now residents of the U.S.A., returned home to visit mother over the week-end, and outward bound trains carried many who were going to visit their mothers in their homes in other centres.

Court of Revisions Meet in June

Town and Township Councils Name Dates for the Hearing of Appeals Against the 1928 Assessment

Both Town and Township councils at their recent meetings set aside the day when a court of revision would sit to hear and determine appeals against the 1928 assessment. The Town's court of revision will be comprised of five members of the council and will sit on Wednesday, June 13th in the town hall at 8 o'clock in the evening. The township's court of revision will comprise all members of the township council and their session will be held on Saturday afternoon, June 9th. Both courts will meet in the council chambers at Grimsby.

It is understood that there are one or two appeals in the town but whether or not there have been any appeals in the township has not as yet been made known.

Main West Pavement Reverts to the Town

At the town council meeting on Wednesday evening a communication was read from the Department of Public Highways, informing the council that the portion of the provincial highway to Kerman Avenue which was maintained by the department of highways had been handed over to the town, who would in future be called upon to maintain and repair the road from Murray Street west to Kerman Avenue. The reading of this communication started a debate among the councillors, which finally ended in Alderman Tregunno being appointed to arrange for the council to meet the honorable George S. Henry, Minister of Highways, at an early date.

While the council did not outline what they were going to from the department it has been reported that the department would be asked to take over the road passing through the town.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

God's Foundation:—As the whirlwind passeth, so is the wicked no more; but the righteous is an everlasting foundation.—Prov. 10: 25.

PITY THE CHILD

At this season of the year, when the fine days are approaching, and the prospect of the summer vacation looms in the immediate future, the most pathetic figure in the majority of our modern cities is the little child looking for a place to play.

Safety clubs are formed to teach the little tots to "look both ways before crossing," but the fact is overlooked that the street is about the only place left for many of them to enjoy their play—and youth is the time for play. Every healthy, normal child is not only entitled to it, but also if there is such a thing as human rights, has the privilege of demanding it.

When the present-day parents were boys and girls, there was no problem of supervised playgrounds to solve. Every community had a "corner lot" where the boys could congregate for ball games and enjoy themselves to their heart's content. Traffic dangers were unknown. Safety buttons hadn't made their appearance. A good sound healthy boy had a fair chance to enjoy himself, and a generation of stout courageous men was reared.

But considerable "progress" has been made since that day, but it isn't the sort of progress which is enjoyed by the natural healthy boy whose system demands action in sport, and who is compelled to practice on the pavement unless one of his youthful pals is fortunate in possessing a big back yard—and they are scarce.

Man's selfishness has contributed largely to this unfortunate condition. Commercialism and materialism pursued without regard to the needs of the rising generation have also been contributing factors. The corner lots have been levelled off to make room for gasoline stations. The extra space on the family homestead has been divided into building lots to supply the demand for extra housing accommodation, and all this time nothing has been done to provide a substitute for these natural playgrounds which the children of former years enjoyed.

Having stolen the natural heritage of the children, man now busies himself in ordering the youngsters off the streets, so that he won't have to slacken the speed of his high-powered car, notwithstanding the fact that he isn't driving any place in particular and has plenty of time to get there.

What is needed in these days is a little more consideration for the child. The formation of Kid's Safety Clubs is most commendable, but the entire onus should not be placed on the kids. It would be a splendid thing to form a few Careful Driver's Clubs, whose members would be taught that children and streets were here long before the automobile, that the presence of children playing on the streets is in most cases the result of man's selfishness in considering only his own pleasures, and conveniences and gain—and also that the life of a child is worth more than all the automobiles in the country.

THE INCOMING TIDE

For some years now it has become the usual thing to read statistics tending to show the great flow of people going from Canada to make their home in the United States. These figures have been used in season and out of season by politicians and by newspapers which are politically biased, until they have created, to some extent, a feeling that Canada was but the milch cow which kept the United States thriving.

A few days ago, however, other sets of figures were announced by the Dominion government officials, showing a return movement which is highly gratifying. They show that last year 65,000 people from the United States entered Canada to make their home here. Of these, forty thousand were former Canadian citizens who had gone to the United States to earn a living, and who were returning to this country again. The other 25,000 were citizens of the United States migrating into Canada to make their homes here. Undoubtedly they were attracted here by the greater opportunities which are to be found north of the international boundary at the present time.

This incoming tide of people is very significant. It shows that there need no longer be the cry that Canada is being depleted of her population by migration to the United States. Indeed, as matters now stand, with business conditions under depression in the United States and flourishing in Canada, there is every reason to believe that the situation will be entirely reversed, that many more thousands of Canadians will come back from the United States, and many thousands more United States citizens will settle in this country. This will work out to the benefit of Canada in a very marked way, for immigration of this type is greatly to be preferred to that from non-English speaking countries across the Atlantic.

A MEANINGLESS GESTURE

The demand made by Mr. N. Sinclair, the Liberal leader in the Ontario provincial assembly, for a special session of the assembly to pass legislation to guard against carelessness on the part of election officials, can be taken as little more than a meaningless gesture, made for its effect on his followers. The demand came as the result of the investigation into certain irregularities in the South Ottawa election, in which it was found that there was nothing of an illegal or criminal nature, but a good deal of careless handling of ballots.

Surely Mr. Sinclair cannot be serious in his request that the province be put to the expense of a special session of the legislature to have the election laws amended to provide against the results of possible carelessness. Why the necessity for such haste? It is true that the next election may be one or two bye-elections before the next session, but there is no reason for uneasiness in amending the law. The lessons of South Ottawa will not quickly be lost, and will have a healthy influence on the actions of returning officers and other election officials until such time as definite change can be made in the law. Mr. Sinclair may have thought that he was standing forth as a bold champion of the electors when he made his demand. It is more likely, however, that the majority of the people will look in his attitude as both absurd and unreasonable, and will feel that when he made it, he never had any idea so foolish as to grant it.

HAVE FAITH IN YOUR TOWN

Justus Miller, managing secretary of the Border Cities Chamber of Commerce, widely known as the man who put Essex "on the map" by his vigorous activity on behalf of its advertisement and development, in speaking in St. Thomas last week told an audience of Chamber of Commerce members and Kiwanians the secret of his success in this way. His message was such that it can be applied to any community, and his words are well worth passing on to the citizens of Grimsby at the present time. Mr. Miller said:—

"You can't sell anything to the other fellow if you don't believe in it yourself, and that applies to a community. . . . If you don't believe in your own community, believe that it is a good place to live in, to work in and work for, and for your children to live in, how can you expect outsiders to interest themselves in that community to the point of moving in, or how can you expect your children to remain there when they grow up? I would say that the first principle of community publicity is for people to believe in themselves and their own community."

This is exactly in line with the attitude which has been taken by the Independent in its advocacy of greater interest being taken by the people of Grimsby in the development of the town, and in the work of the Chamber of Commerce. There are few towns anywhere which have as much to offer in the way of conveniences, comforts and advantages as the Town of Grimsby, yet it is only too true that there are citizens who appreciate them so little that they are prepared to condemn the Town in which they live. The people of Grimsby have a town worth believing in, and they should be the first to realize that fact, and to make it known wherever they may be. The greatest booster any community can have is the man who will "talk up" his town at every opportunity, and Grimsby cannot have too many of that type of citizen.

THE INFLUENCE OF THE BIBLE

Premier Baldwin, addressing the annual meeting of the British and Foreign Bible Society, pay his tribute to the power of the Bible in the direction of the world's affairs, for, he said, were it not for the hope which the Bible gives for a better world, he would resign office. Coming from a man in his position, that is a drastic statement, but one which he seeks to justify in the following words:

"If I did not feel that our work and the work of all others who hold the same faith and ideals, whether in politics or in civic work was done in the faith and hope that some day, maybe a million years hence—the Kingdom of God would spread over the whole world, then I should have no hope I could do no work, and I would give over my office to anyone who would take it."

"The Bible is not only the greatest literature in the world, but it always has been and is in the nature of a high explosive in the world. We seem to carry on so much of our struggle in this world in a twilight or fog. Friends, or men who should be friends are kicking blindly in the struggle and wounding men who are or who ought to be brothers, and nothing but the light that comes from the Bible can lighten that twilight or dispel that fog."

All that Premier Baldwin said regarding the power of the Bible in the world may not be true today, but it could be made true if all people viewed the matter in the same light as he does. The fact that the world has not attained that ideal of which he speaks is largely due to the neglect of the Bible and the rules which it lays down for human conduct. The Bible has a tremendous influence in human affairs, it is true, but how much greater would that influence be if it were made the code of ethics and living for all people of professing Christian beliefs. Wondrous possibilities lie between its covers, but these can never be realized while it remains a book to lie untouched and unread on some shelf, or to be used only in times of special stress or sorrow.

WHAT CONSTITUTES FAILURE?

A prominent educationist in the United States is credited with making the remark that a man of forty-five who has not earned enough money to retire is a failure. For this statement, he has drawn forth the comments of several newspapers, most of which disagree with his view-point. Take even the face of it, there are grounds for argument on the point of whether it is reasonable to expect a man to have reached a state of financial independence by the time he is forty-five. There are so many years of useful effort left to the average man after that age that it would not be a good thing to be placed beyond the need of working when forty-five is reached.

A much broader question, however, is opened up by this statement. It opens up the subject of by what standards success or failure should be judged. Does the fact that a man is able to amass a certain amount of wealth entitle him to be called a success, or does the fact that man has not made enough money to retire at once stamp him as a failure? Judged by that standard, some of the greatest men in the world might be called failures. The man who believes in working for the good of others, and follow that belief instead of working to amass wealth, achieves measure of success in life which the money grabber never knows, and yet, by the material standard quoted above, would be a failure.

There are many things which mean far more in life than the making of money. Some of the most successful of men have been those of small means. The man who brings a family of children to the world, works to rear and educate them, and gives them a good start in life as honorable and respected citizens, is achieving a measure of success which the mere making of a fortune can never give. It would be disastrous to society if the rule by which failure and success are judged were to be based on the making of money. If that were so, the world would be full of failures, many of them would be men who, to a marked degree, served their fellows and the world in general far better than those who served the god of mammon.

Keener Competition Promised in Berries

U.S. Shipments Will Reach Peak When Canadian Season Opens—Hits British Columbia

Present indications point to keen competition for the Canada strawberry growing this year. According to A. Fulton of the Dominion Fruit Branch, the season is later than usual in the main strawberry section of the United States, and it is not expected that the peak of shipments will be reached from the Ozark Valley of Missouri and Arkansas until the second week in June.

This will be just before the big rush of Ontario berries start rolling to market, and will be in the middle of the picking in British Columbia. "In B.C.," stated Mr. Fulton yesterday "the first berries will be shipped out about May 20, with carlot shipments to the Prairie markets about the first of June. Berries from this Province and the rush from the United States will come together about the same time."

Big Crop in United States
From all that can be learned at present there will be a big crop of strawberries in the United States this year, with quality high and the most modern packing methods used.

Cat and Mouse Act
A cat patient at the Salford, England, branch of the People's Dispensary for Sick Animals has formed a friendship with a mouse which she caught a year ago. Whenever the cat is at home, the mouse plays with her, running over her back and showing not the least fear.

It is surprising what a little formalin will do to the smut spores. And it is easy to understand, when one gets a good whiff of it, how the treatment is so effective.

In the past that they might make education in order, education is more money, baggage. The scholar or less excellent claims to wealth, must renounce.

When Bruin Makes Friends

Visitors to Jasper National Park, which is Canada's largest and finest national playground, situated in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, have a splendid opportunity of studying the habits of wild animals. For Jasper National Park is a game sanctuary in the heart of the wood and game and hunting dogs are forbidden within its boundaries. It is of interest to observe the manner in which the animals recognize this. Though it is only comparatively few years since this great sanctuary was set aside, the shy deer and mountain sheep are no longer shy, the black and brown bears have become daily visitors to village and to hotel grounds, and the animal population of the park is increasing by leaps and bounds. However, it is Bruin who demonstrates perhaps most forcibly, how the animals have come to regard man as their friend instead of as their enemy. Now it is a daily event to have one or more bears visit the Lodge grounds in search of the table scraps which they know tourists love to feed to them. Nor is it unusual for a golfer playing over the magnificent scenic course which has been laid out in the Athabasca Valley, to meet a bear at the turn of the fairway, or to find a shy deer viewing him with interest as he gets down to line up his putt on one or another of the greens.

An Eyewitness Story Of The California Flood Disaster

Three little Mexican children, one a lad of twelve and his two small sisters, aged six and eight respectively, stood outside the Sheriff's office at Newhall, Cal., in the flood district of the Santa Clara Valley last Thursday morning.

Scantly clad and trembling after the horrible nightmare through which they had just passed, the three newly orphaned children turned piteous pleading eyes to a grim faced deputy-sheriff who was questioning them about their experience.

"It was just like this" said the boy simply; "in the middle of the night we were awakened by a low moaning sound; daddy said it was just the wind, but I was sure it was water and as the sound grew louder, I remembered the dam. I grabbed my two little sisters here and rushed to the hills just in time to escape the flood. Daddy and Mamma and my two older brothers were swept away."

And tears filled his brave young eyes as he pictured the scene once again.

That was only one of the many hundreds of heart-rending incidents which followed in the wake of the great St. Francis dam disaster, when 12,000,000,000 gallons of water, suddenly and mysteriously released from its resting-place high in the mountains, poured in a madly rushing torrent through the San Francisco Canyon and beautiful Santa Clara Valley, sixty five miles to the ocean, carrying death and destruction to all before it.

If you can realize a wall of foaming water, thirty feet high and from one to two miles wide, crashing with irresistible force through a river valley at a mile a minute gait, sweeping before it great steel bridge and huge concrete pillars, beautiful ranch homes and whole sections of prosperous young towns, uprooting thousands of gigantic trees and completely submerging valuable orange groves, and at the same time dealing the hand of death to hundreds of unfortunate victims, then you have a picture of what took place when the St. Francis dam gave way.

With a group of Los Angeles newspapermen, shortly after the flood had spent its force, the writer had the privilege of seeing at first hand the havoc wrought by that gigantic water-serpent.

At Newhall one found realistic evidence of the ghastly toll taken by the deadly waters. Ordinarily this little place is a sleepy country village. Fate made it for a time the local point of a great tragedy and the centre of a continent-wide interest.

The sheriff's office became the controlling factor in the work of rescue, relief and rehabilitation. In front of it were posted the long lists of dead missing and unidentified persons. Hour by hour the lists were growing in length and always before them hovered a strangely silent, sorrow-stricken throng. Deputy-sheriffs hurried to and from, and motorcycle officers came and departed with a maximum of speed and a minimum of words. Inside the office, weary clerks thumbed pages of names while grieving men and women stood in agonized silence awaiting news of loved ones.

A dry-eyed man stepped to the desk. One could overhear scraps of conversation: "Yes, I have found my little boy dead." "No, I have heard nothing about her—but I am still hoping." It was difficult to believe that these people were speaking of the loss of those nearest their heart. Men and women who had bravely and steadily fought to gain a livelihood from their little farms in the valley and who had undergone years of hardship, found that their courage now stood them in noble stead. Stark tragedy stared them in the face—they took the blow unflinchingly.

Across the road the Red Cross, early on the scene, had established headquarters for the wounded, hungry and sick. A long queue filed by for coffee and sandwiches.

A short distance down the main street, the Masonic temple had been converted into a temporary morgue. A sad procession of ambulances came swiftly from the valley two miles away to bring their human burdens for identification by waiting relatives. Inside the morgue deathly silence prevailed. A blanket was thrown back. One heard a smothered, inarticulate sound as a mother recognized her child in the little, lifeless form. They passed quietly out, still and fearless.

That was the scene in Newhall. All down the Main Street the folks assembled in little clusters, most of them hoping for the best and fearing the worst. At Sausalito a mile ahead, there were other groups similarly expectant.

And out beyond lay the Valley of Death.

That sinister foe of man had chosen to strike swiftly and stealthily when sleeping families had not a chance to escape.

Sixty-four families slept in frail homes a mile or two below the dam. Most of them never knew what struck them. Only three were saved when washed onto the hillside.

A mammoth power station was crushed like kindling wood.

Down, down rushed the mad whirling vortex, cyclone in its speed, and relentless in its destructive power.

They found entire families buried in the black mud. An army of 3,000 volunteer workers scoured the countryside by day and by night. The horrors that met their eyes defy description.

The dead body of a man was suspended high in the branches of a tree. Two entire families were found beneath overturned automobiles. They had been caught while motoring.

Many of the victims had been buffeted about by the raging torrent until their features were scarcely recognizable.

Scores of bodies were undoubtedly buried deep in the mud and debris and will probably never be found.

A mammoth railway bridge which had spanned the valley by impotent, twisted, battered wreckage of steel, fully one mile from its higher location. Heavy concrete pillars were scattered along the river banks.

Big hydro-electric towers had been hammered into almost unrecognizable form even to the topmost rungs.

That green valley of Santa Clara was now a sea of mud. Where formerly stood inviting homes and stately pepper trees, nothing now but mud-sucking mud. Here there the corner of a house or barn protruded through twenty or thirty feet of mud. What chance had human beings? Suffocated!

Mud in places turned to quicksand, hampering the work of rescue and endangering the lives of the searchers. Later came the rattlesnakes to add their poison treachery to the difficult task. By hundreds they were washed down from the hills. Two workers were bitten and temporarily the search abated to be replaced by a snake hunt.

When night came, great white lights from Hollywood studios shed their brilliance over the wasted land and the hunt for victims went on and on.

Pitiful in truth were the stories that came from the valley as survivors recovered from the first stunning shock—stories that revealed heroic deeds side by side with tales of stark horror.

There was the epic of that brave man who gave his own life while running from hut to hut to warn Edison Company Employees asleep in their beds only a few miles from the dam. He might easily have reached the hills but he preferred to "lay down his life."

Scores of stories had the same general theme. Many of the ranchers had attempted to escape in their motor cars. The head of the family had rushed the children and women into the automobile and barely made an escape. Others were less fortunate and while an older brother ran back to warn a neighbor, the car and its occupants were swept into oblivion. Or perhaps while an unbelieving member of the family hesitated, the giant wave bore down mercilessly upon them.

Cruel tricks of fate were played. One rancher who foresaw the danger, loaded his three children into a small automobile. Believing himself out of danger he ran back to get his dog. When he returned the car had been carried away by the flood with its precious cargo.

One woman and her three children floated on a feather mattress seven miles downstream before they were washed to safety on the hillside.

A four-room house was carried more than a mile without one piece of furniture being disarranged. Even the table lamps were found upright in their places.

The body of a 12-year-old girl was found in another house which had been borne several miles from its original site. Later the remains of a six-months old baby was also discovered in the same house. The parents were saved, the mother having been tossed into a tree by the flood and the father carried to safety when he clung to the floating debris.

An heroic Santa Paula had saved three lives and recovered three bodies. One girl he snatched from the jaws of death as she clung desperately to a tree-top above the raging flood and two others he bore to safety from the roof of a floating house.

With her aged mother in her arms, a young woman fought the flood for two hours. She won the fight and reached the shore, but the mother was dead and the father is missing.

Those were typical of the survivors' stories. One man described the awful scene as he saw it as dawn came on that fatal morning: "You could look for miles and see nothing but a sweeping torrent, and on its surface debris, that mingled in horrible conglomeration the bodies of humans and animals, houses and trees and everything that would float."

When the band of brave searchers had passed down the valley to pursue their manhunt and when an army of workers had cleared away most of the debris one could see for miles nothing but a broad, glistening expanse of slud-mud that squelched and sucked underfoot.

A mud-covered sewing-machine perched crazily on the side of the ravine the huge batter steel bridge, long rows of flattened trees, and corners of buildings projecting from the mud—these alone relieved the smooth, muddy surface. These and the sullen, dwindling stream of muddy water, all that remained of the dashing catastrophe which had created a new Death Valley.

urniture automobiles, roofs, fences and walls—the water took them away hurled them down in the flood mangled them into bits and buried them in the mud.

There is a field that was rich with tall alfalfa. It was green, it is brown. The alfalfa lies flat to the earth, smooth, regular, as if an enormous brush had been drawn across it.

A land of utter desolation pervaded by an atmosphere of deep despair which not even the golden sunshine could dispel, some day the valley will bloom again in all its pride and glory and a new and contented generation will till its fertile fields.

But to-day only sadness reigns in Santa Clara Valley. As we came back to Newhall, we encountered a lonely decrepit old man, bowed in grief and tortured by untold agonies. He had Grimsby fire department was given several hours work Monday night in putting out a blaze in the woods along the mountain brow at Woolverton mountain. The fire burned over a space of about a mile. At times the smoke was so dense on the highway that motoring was very difficult. Charles Burland has returned to Bermuda where he will spend the next few weeks before opening up the Burland chain camps for the summer months.

A beautiful spring day, which brought with it a clear blue sky, steady sunshine and intermittent cool breezes on Sunday ushered blossom time into the Grimsby district. From the early hours of morning the highways were covered with cars hurrying here and there while many made short stops at beautiful places in order that the beauty of the day might be studied to a greater advantage. One outstanding feature of the day was that the cars did not seem in a humor for speed and the majority of the drivers were content to idle along at a slow pace which was much more advantageous for inspecting the colorful fruit trees, as well as being in conjunction with the slowness of a warm spring day.

The trees of the District put on their most beautiful coverings in honour of the day, and from the nature of the beautiful profusion of blossoms, promises a rich and heavy supply of fruit this coming harvest. The cherry trees were the most advanced and presented a very beautiful as well as successful looking picture as their boughs lifted their massive looking, but really light loads, up towards the life giving sun. These trees were greatly in contrast to what they promise to be in the near future. If the blossoms last and are fertilized to a great extent the tree will have a hard time even supporting the bounteous harvest, let alone lift the boughs up toward the sun as is their present position.

The other fruit trees of the District, including the early variety of peaches, plums, pears and scattered apricots, all did their part towards making the first day of blossom time a success. The tiny, delicate filigree of the pink buds of the early peach added the necessary color to the other light blends and was a means of drawing many signs of astonishment as passers-by got a glimpse of these small beautifiers through a small hedge or other seeming obstruction. Present conditions point to every

The marriage was quietly solemnized at the First United Church, Hamilton, on Saturday, May 12th, of Arnetta Barbara, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Shaver, Grimsby, Ont., to Mr. Gerald Carson, of Parry Sound, Ont., Rev. J. E. Hughson officiating.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a gown of orchid Frenchorgette, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of Butterfly roses and lily of the valley. There were no attendants. The happy couple left immediately after the ceremony for a short honeymoon. On their return they will reside in Grimsby for the summer.

CONTROLLING CUTWORMS (Experimental Farm Note)

The cutworm is a serious menace to the tobacco grower in his efforts to obtain a uniform stand of tobacco from the first planting. These insects are found in practically all soils, but are usually more numerous in sod fields. The plants are cut off near the surface of the ground, and in many cases several replantings are necessary in order to secure a uniform stand of tobacco.

Cutworms can be fairly well controlled by fall ploughing before the 20th of September, at which time the moths have stopped laying their eggs and also by the use of poison bran mixture.

The poison bran mixture, which has proven most satisfactory on the Experimental Farm at Harrow, Ont., for a period of years, contains 1 pound of Paris Green and 50 pounds of wheat bran mixed dry. These are mixed together with 1 gallon of cheap molasses and sufficient water to give the mixture the consistency of wet saw dust. This should be broadcast over the field by hand one or two evenings before planting the tobacco. The best results have been obtained by dividing the mixture in half and broadcasting it over the field on two consecutive evenings rather than in one application. The above mixture is sufficient for one acre and should be applied after 6 p.m. so it will not dry out too quickly and lose its attractiveness to the worms. The mixing can easily be done on a cement or wooden floor in the same manner as mixing cement.

FAST TRIP

That the progress of time is bringing about surprising improvements in transportation facilities to even the most remote corners of the Dominion—improvements which serve to greatly minimize the drawbacks of distance and bind Canada's broad spaces relatively closer one to another—is indicated by a recent message received by the Director of the North West Territories and Yukon branch of the Department of the Interior.

The communication states that Mr. George I. MacLean, who was appointed Gold Commissioner of the Yukon, April 1, and who left Ottawa on April 2, arrived at his destination, Dawson, on the eighteenth, or nine days after leaving Vancouver. This represents a normal saving of time of at least nine days, which was made possible by the circumstance that after making the trip up the coast by steamer and on by rail to Whitehorse, Mr. MacLean completed the journey from Whitehorse to Dawson by aeroplane in only six hours. Usually at this time of year this 450-mile leg of the journey takes ten days to negotiate by stage.

Mr. MacLean, the new Gold Commissioner, has had twenty-nine years of contiguous service in the Department of the Interior (fourteen years in the Commissioner's office at Dawson and fifteen years in organization and accounting work in Ottawa). Since 1918 he has been Assistant Financial Controller of the Department.

Obituary

Death removed a member of one of North Grimsby's oldest families this morning, when Mrs. A. O. Bowslaugh, (nee Jane Clarke) passed away in her eighty-third year. Mrs. Bowslaugh was one of ten children of the late Clement Levdum Clarke, early scholar and teacher, and Isabella Shaw, daughter of Major-Gen. Aeneas Shaw, first Vice Governor of Upper Canada. She was the last member of her family residing in the Grimsby vicinity, though one brother, Henry B. Clarke, of 130 South Drive, Toronto, Blackhawk, has been touring the South Western States for the winter, and were in Chicago on their return trip when news of their sister's death was telegraphed to them. It is probable that they will reach Grimsby to attend the funeral on Thursday in the family plot Queen's Lawn Cemetery.

Besides her brother and sister, Mrs. Bowslaugh is survived by her husband, Albert O. Bowslaugh, and three daughters, Mrs. Ella Bradt, Niagara Falls, N.Y.; Mrs. Bella Couss, Newark, N.J.; Mrs. W. F. POETRY

THE CITY CHILD

When I grow up, I will not live
In a dull house in a dull row,
Where feathers of smoke from tall chimneys
Are the only beautiful things I know.

No, indeed I'll follow uphill
The trams that lead to far moor-top;
When I get there, I'll rest awhile
Then walk for hours without a stop.

Till I find a field with no tin cans,
Where flowers are clean and trees are high;
It's there I will have a big caravan
With wheels as blue as a picture sky.....

At dusk, no mill shall block out the stars
And I will not sleep; but all night through
On my caravan steps I'll sit and think Of the wonderful things there are to do

Soaks Right In And Limbers Up Stiff Joints

Pharmacists Call it "Joint-Ease" Because it's for Swollen, Sore, Painful Creaking Joints Only

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to melt swollen, inflamed, creaky joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint-Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy for people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint-Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else. Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as sunbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint-Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

T. L. Dymond dispenses it daily for about 60 cents a tube, as do all first class druggists everywhere.

Train Change Affects Mail

Business men in town had their usual routine of gathering the early morning mail put out of the train service. This change went into effect on Monday and early Monday morning many were on hand only to find that their boxes were empty. Not even the early morning papers were there. Post Master Allan notified many of the local men that the mail does not arrive in Grimsby until 9 o'clock. Therefore the mail is not sorted until about 9:30. The first mail out of Grimsby in the morning closes at 8:30.

CALIFORNIA FLOOD DISASTER

just emerged from the morgue. The coroner questioned him. "I've lost seven," he stammered, "and I haven't found one."

Rumor follows fast upon rumor as to the cause of this great tragedy. First it was an earthquake, then dynamite, later the theory of gradual seepage and erosion substantiated by the statements of men who had seen and declared the dam unsafe. Many condemn the original construction as faulty or declare that inferior materials were used in the concrete. Authorities are at a loss to definitely place the blame until all facts are forthcoming. At any rate, negligence there must have been when 120,000,000 gallons of water were allowed to thunder down upon a valley of innocent unsuspecting victims, causing over four hundred deaths and more than $10,000,000 in material damage.

Meanwhile the search for bodies, conducted by thousands of workers and hundreds of tractors, will proceed for weeks because many bodies have been carried to sea. The work of rehabilitation goes on apace. Hundreds have been inoculated against typhoid fever and the Red Cross is caring for a whole city of homeless and hungry. Thousands of sightseers have been turned back in order that the trying task of bringing order out of chaos will suffer a minimum of interruption.

It has been a sad time for the inhabitants of the Santa Clara Valley and the scars must remain for many a day. The country has opened its heart and purse for relief of this stricken people but it cannot erase the awful memories which men and women will carry to their graves. Many of those individual tragedies were too horrible to relate; they must be borne in secret suffering by the stoic survivors of the St. Francis dam catastrophe.

BEAMSVILLE GIRL WITTIION IN COUNTY COMPETITION

Miss Mildred Keown High Competition

The County Competition which is held each year under the auspices of the Agricultural Representative and the Women's Institute was in the Beamsville High School and students representing various parts of the county were present and while the number was not as large as last year the lock in number was made up in quality as all of the girls in the county made an exceptionally good showing. While there were fifteen when offered in the three classes made so that an extra prize was 00 or more prize money.

Three Girls to Represent Lincoln County at C. N. E. The three high girls will compose a team to judge in the Inter-County Competition at the C. N. E. in September, namely Mildred Keown, of Beamsville, Anne Buchanan, of St. Catharines No. 2 and Elma Lowden, of Abington with Anna Pretz of Vineland and Mrs. Foster of Jordan Station as spares being tied for fourth place in the line-up.

The following prizes were offered for the three main classes judged—Class A—Nutrition—School Lunches and Family Menus; 1—Elda Lowden, $3.00; 2—Mrs. Foster, $2.50; 3—Anna Perfen, $2.00; 4—Margaret Hack, $1.50; 5—Hilda Troup, $1.00.

Class B—House Furnishing—Farm Living Rooms and Kitchen Plans; 1—Mildred Keown, $3.00; 2—Anne Buchanan, $2.50; 3—Dorothy Troup, $2.00; 4—Hilda Fairbairn, $2.00; 5—Winnie Merritt, $1.50; 6—Minnie Rittenhouse, $1.00.

Beatrice Bros. St. Catharines Support The Competition

For the Dress Parade Beatrice Bros. of St. Catharines supplied four new costumes and hats to match which were worn by four Beamsville girls namely Misses Helen and Doreen Kennedy, Greta Ely and Rosina Rooker who gave their services free as mannequins for this part of the competition. The Beamsville Women's Institute who arranged for a special committee to arrange for hot coffee and a special lunch for the girls at noon greatly added to the success of the competition.

Four of the Institutes which sponsored the competition in their particular districts by arranging for free head went through the glass of the door to close the required a venture stiched Fairfield, who attended him, founal injuries, who also suffered severe in. The driver which may result fatally from Tona- wanda, N.Y., and all ent and was sibly to avoid the acci- not held by the police.

Mrs. Gordon Cooke of Beamsville coached the girls at each point on two different days and had charge of the competition on the 12th. The three special judges however had charge of the classes and heard reasons given by the girls. The judges were Mrs. G. Shorey of Dundas, Miss Mollie Gordon of Dixie and Miss E. McManus of Thistletown.

It is expected that Championship prizes in the form of a trip to Chicago or to the Royal will be forthcoming for the two high girls in the competition but nothing definite can as yet be announced.

PROPER INFLATION OF TIRES FOR PARKS' HIGHWAYS

Motorists who may visit any of Canada's national parks this summer, are reminded that they will drive with much more safety and comfort over the mountain highways if they will keep the tires of their cars inflated at the proper pressures. With the low pressure of balloon tires, under-inflation of a few pounds results in steering difficulties and also give the car a tendency to roll on sharp curves.

Apart from the advantages of proper tire inflation to the motorist, there is less damage done to gravelled highways by properly inflated tires than by tires that are under-inflated. The latter exercise considerable suction on the road surface, resulting in the loss of the finer binding material, and the consequent "ravelling" of the road. All concerned are consequently benefited by proper tire inflation.

Apple Trees Ready for Pre-Pink Spray

Eud Development Has Been Rapid in Orchards on High Land—Scab Spores Developing

Bud development has been very rapid in the apple orchards on the higher and lighter land during the past few days, writes Walter Smith, of the Northumberland County, and a number of plantations are now ready for the application of the pre-pink spray. Varieties such as Russets, McIntosh, Snow and Starks, will be ready first, although if the present weather conditions there will not be much difference between them and those that leaf out later. Scab development, unfortunately, is well advanced, and it looks as if the spores will be liberated early this year.

Mr. Smith warns growers against taking chances, and advises thorough spraying to combat this danger. He urges the immediate spraying of the tree on one side when bud development reaches the proper stage, following this with an application from the other side in the course of three or four days. Nitrate of soda, he says, must be applied immediately if best results are to be obtained. If there has been no cultivation so far, Mr. Smith would apply the nitrate now, and cultivate late. In applying this fertilizer should be put around the trees at an average of about five pounds per tree depending on size, spreading it immediately under the branches, but keeping it away from the trunk.

Battle Being Waged On Noxious Weeds

Hon. J. S. Martin Calls Attention to Amendments to Act—Locking After Highways

Hon. John S. Martin, Minister of Agriculture, is writing all Ontario municipalities, to call their attention to the new amendments to the Noxious Weeds Act which were passed last Legislature, and to ask of them all possible co-operation in reducing the weed menace to a minimum. Referring to the matter of cutting on highways, Mr. Martin writes as follows:

Cutting on Highways "As you will see, the Act requires that it be done by the "road authority" as defined under the Highway Improvement Act. This simply means that the authority which is responsible for the maintenance of the road shall be responsible for the cutting of the weeds on the road. The cost of cutting the weeds is to be considered as part of the cost of road maintenance, and may be included on the portion on which the Government pays a grant under the Highway Improvement Act. This appears to be the most simple and inexpensive manner in which this very important work can be done, and I trust it will have the hearty support of all municipalities. You will observe that the Government grant for road maintenance may be withheld where the weeds are not properly cut."

Wants Inspectors Mr. Martin expresses the hope that municipalities which did not appoint weed inspectors last year will do so this year. Early in the summer the department proposes to call a conference of these inspectors, with a view to familiarizing them with one another's work, and with conditions, generally, throughout the Province.

TOPWORKING CHERRY TREES

(By James A. Neilson, Extension Horticulturist Department of Agriculture, Port Hope.)

The more profitable use of cherry trees, particularly some of the sweet varieties, is one problem that is occupying the attention of growers in the Niagara District and other sections of Ontario where this fruit is grown. This problem is due to various factors such as low yields caused by imperfect pollination, the occurrence of seedling trees which generally produce fruit of small size and poor quality, or the presence of varieties that do not command a good price on the market. When poor results are due to any of the above mentioned factors and the trees are healthy and not too old, it would seem desirable to convert them into better trees by topworking with superior varieties.

The sweet cherry and in fact all species of cherries have generally been rather difficult to topwork, by the common methods of grafting. In recent years, however, improvements of these methods have been discovered which make it possible to get a good sort of scions when the work is done properly. The most important feature of these changes consists in preventing the scions from drying out, and in doing the work early in the season. The prevention of desiccation may be done by coating the entire scion with warm paraffin or by covering with paper bags. The preference of the writer is for the wax method, the details of which are shown farther on in this article. Sweet Cherries, and in fact all kinds of stone fruits, may be topworked by various methods of grafting, but for the beginner the cleft graft is one of the best to use. The details of this method are given hereunder:

1—Select for grafting well-placed foundation branches of any size from 1-2 inch up to 3 inches in diameter. On small trees it is feasible to graft all the branches required for the new top at one operation, but on large trees it is better to spread the grafting over two seasons.

2—Saw off these branches with a sharp saw moderately close to central axis of tree, say 1-2 to 3 feet out.

3—Split the branches horizontally with a sharp, strong butcher knife to a depth of 2 to 2 1/2 inches.

4—Cut scions to wedge shape with wedge 1-2 to 2 inches long—and one side thicker than the other. In cutting scion take care to have the top-most bud directly above cut surface.

5—Insert screw driver in centre of cleft and gently pull until cleft is open enough to admit of scions being set in position.

6—Set scions in ends of cleft so that cambium contact is established between stock and scion. This is absolutely necessary and can be done by placing scion so that the upper part of the wedge section projects very slightly beyond the rim of bark and the lower tip of wedge is slightly inside the bark. Withdraw screw driver and allow branch to close on scion.

7—Thoroughly coat all cut surfaces and points of contact with warm liquid grafting wax, taking special pains to fill all crevices.

8—When this has been done, ap-

Powerful, Penetrating Antiseptic Oil Heals Eczema and Other Skin Diseases

Must Give Results in 7 Days or Money Back

Make up your mind today that you are going to give your skin a real chance to get well. Like a lot of other people, you've probably been convinced that the only thing to use was an ointment or salve (some of them are very good) but in the majority of cases these sticky salves simply close the pores and the condition presently remains the same. Go to T. L. Draymond for any other good drug today and get an originally hot paraffin to all exposed surfaces of scions, taking special care to cover every portion, buds included. The application of paraffin prevents drying out of scions and next to securing cambium contact is the most important factor in getting a good stand of scions.

9—Wear cotton bandage around stock branch just below where saw cut was made. This will prevent the bark from turning out and thus helps to get a higher percentage of scions to grow. The bandage should be removed in late summer after scions have become established.

10—Grafting is best done early in spring before any growth starts, but may be done a little later if scions are cut while dormant and kept perfectly fresh.

For more complete information on the technique of grafting ask your nearest agricultural representative for a copy of Ontario Department of Agriculture Bulletin No. 324—"Grafting Fruit Trees"—or write direct to

Under the old dispensation it was a "survival of the fittest." Now it is a survival of the cautious.

A LITTLE BIT OF EVERYTHING

Dear Reader:
This column is to be known by the above title. In it will be recorded all the wise cracks of the week, and we invite our readers to contribute any bright sayings.

Waiting?

JUST THINK

A few shelves delay the opening.

The young man with the pearl tie pin and wrist watch states that he will start a new association in Grimsby as soon as the Government store opens, known as the "Association of Froth Blowers."

THE NERVE

The Buffalo News sends us the following clipping. "Sign seen approaching the Town of Grimsby, Canada: 'This Dump Is Closed'"

ASK THE MAN WHO LOSES ONE

Early anglers report that the 1928 model fish have quicker acceleration, four-fin brakes and higher worm consumption.

St. Catharines Standard

CAUGHT

The members of the County council conducted a tour of Lincoln County roads in a bus called "Buffalo Bill," implying no doubt that they were out to buffalo the ratepayers.

GOT THE GARDEN IN

The majority of us would have to work twenty-four hours a day if we were to love our neighbors as they love themselves.

ONTARIO BIRD

"Sally Short Skirts" says that since they started to make alterations and fix up for the new government store, the most popular bird is the swallow.

ANOTHER SIGN

When you see the mosquitoes "flocking" around a resident of Elizabeth street, it is a sure sign that summer is here.

THE TRUANT

I was a bright and genial day When, tempted by the open gate And by a little truant mate, Our Baby Willie ran away! And prompted by each varying fear, Impelled by agonized alarm That he, perchance, might come to harm, We hunted for him far and near.

Yet all in vain his baby name We called and called with no reply Till with the sunset in the sky Back to his home the baby came. Poor, tired child, how glad he crept Into his mother's arms and said, "I'm glad I'm home. He's do to bed!" And oh, how peacefully he slept.

"Glad I am home!" It is the cry That many a weary wanderer gives, When tired of the life he lives He turns him to the wall to die. And as I to my joyous breast Took back my truant child that day, So will the arms that live for aye Receive each truant soul to rest! —Eugene Field

Toronto May Give Support

Consider Backing St. Catharines in Effort to Secure Return of Bonds—Grimsby and Beamsville Silent on the Matter

St. Catharines may be joined in its endeavor to obtain from the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission the bonds deposited with that body in connection with the abandoned Toronto Port Credit-St. Catharines Railway. The acting city solicitor of Toronto, finance commissioner and works commissioner has recommended such a step and approval of the corporation council has been received. The matter will come before the council at Toronto on Monday.

St. Catharines has unsuccessfully tried so far to get back its bonds, judgments being recorded against it in two courts, and recently asked Hamilton and Toronto to join in an appeal against these judgments to the supreme court of Canada. Hamilton has voiced its approval of the scheme and expects that Toronto will do likewise.

The Toronto officials recommend that Toronto co-operate with St. Catharines in the appeal, pointing out that the circumstances surrounding the deposits of its bonds for the St. Catharines-Port Credit line are similar to those in St. Catharines. The Toronto officials in making the recommendation have sent to council a long history of the hydro-electric project, concluding with its final abandonment. Grimsby, North Grimsby and Beamsville have not as yet stated whether or not they will join in the action.

C. of C. Directors on Broadcast

The directors of the Chamber of Commerce held a special session in the Town Hall last evening to take up several matters with the industrial commission. The main topic for discussion was the advertising now being carried on for blossom week and for new industries through radio station CKGW at Toronto. Another series of broadcasts was drawn up and the agreement with the radio station was signed. These broadcasts are on the air Mondays and Fridays between the hours of 5 and 6 p.m. and at 11 p.m., Grimsby time.

The following is a copy of the broadcast that was put on the air on Friday of last week and Monday of this week:

Blossom Time in Grimsby and North Grimsby

This picture presented, each year during fruit blossom time in Grimsby and the surrounding district including North Grimsby, is one which is looked forward to with keen delight by all who have seen it. This year the indications are for a full bloom of practically all varieties of all kinds of fruit, including Sweet and Sour Cherries, Plums, Peaches, Pears and Apples. It is somewhat difficult to determine at an early date when the blossoms will be at their best, but the weather during the past few days has been such that we can now state that for the next two weeks the blossoms will be at their best.

The geographical position of Grimsby and North Grimsby in the centre of the Niagara Peninsula—"The Garden of Canada", its mild climate and excellent soil make it possible to produce in commercial quantities fruits of the most tender kinds such as cannot be produced in any other part of Canada, east of the Rocky Mountains.

The easy access to the larger market centres has made Grimsby and North Grimsby one of the most important fruit producing and distributing centres in the Province of Ontario. Sweet and Sour Cherries and Plum trees are now in full bloom with Peaches and other fruit trees rapidly coming into full bloom so that from this time on for the next ten days the countryside will be at its best.

There are other wonderful spots in Ontario that may be seen at their best at any time during the summer but Blossom Time is very short, so plan your next week end trip to Grimsby and the surrounding district.

The merchants and residents of Grimsby and North Grimsby through the Grimsby Chamber of Commerce extend a most cordial invitation to all, especially our friends to the south to visit this district during the Blossom Time, May 10th to May 20th.

Always at your service,
Grimsby Chamber of Commerce.

"The Fire Brigade"

Benefit Grimsby Fire Department.

The great spectacular musical comedy drama "The Fire Brigade" which comes to Moore's Theatre on Thursday and Friday evening, May 31st and June 1st as a benefit to the Grimsby Fire Department will, without a doubt, be the greatest attraction for many seasons. The dramatic action is strong and tense, while clear rich comedy bubbles through the entire production with not a dull moment throughout, and the songs, dances and choruses, which are introduced throughout the action of the play, present an evening's enjoyment of real merit and leaves little else to be desired. Tickets now on sale by members of the Fire Department. This is not a moving picture.
